

Real physical security takes the stairs.

Physical security is as vital to the health of a business as a healthy bottom line. At Sussman we bring real physical security to the table, by not doing it from behind a desk. When we assess the health of your physical security, expect our experts to review your systems, procedures and protocols with eyes that question, uncover and envisage. And don't be alarmed if you find us taking the stairs armed with ladders and flashlights. Because bad actors will.

Sussman offers

- Gap analysis
- Threat assessments
- Security training
- Red teaming
- Security systems design & installation

For a real conversation about Sussman physical security contact us at real@sussmancorporatesecurity.com